

Casella Process Solutions has been a leading supplier to pharmaceutical and bio-tech manufacturing companies in the Northeast for nearly 20 years.

We specialize in providing technically sophisticated components and equipment for single use/disposable and traditional stainless steel process applications.

Our innovative solutions include sanitary valves, mixers, single use assemblies and solutions, heat exchangers, filter housings, tubing assemblies, pumps, instrumentation and storage solutions. Our in-house stainless steel fabrication capabilities allow us to customize products to solve unique or urgent process challenges.

We understand downtime is critical for our customers. Because of our commitment to service and extensive inventory, we can have the solution you need available when you need it.
